This is a year of transformation, the year Lightworkers have been waiting years for. Many on this planet have been waiting for the world to continue its path to destruction with a new war starting in Russia at the time of this writing it is easy for people to care less about what is happening on Earth. Many people have been feeling insecure and uncertain about making choices that will lead to a more enlightened future. Some have been experiencing intense feelings or anxieties. This year is the last transformation year before 2012, and this is the year of the great shift for a lot of Lightworkers, the rest of humanity will shift in 2012. All of us will feel transformation from every level. The only reason the Lightworkers will go ahead is because they have known and expected the shift for years. I have known since 2000 when we passed the millennium gate.

Remember to care for yourself. The intensity you feel is the quickening and purification of the Blue Storm. Time will be passing quickly as we head into the sixth day of the Galactic Universe in the Mayan Calendar, which will happen in November. Blue Electric Storm year will bring up the core issues that separate you from Source. When these issues come up, and they always will in a synergistic Universe, life may become very difficult. Your desire to escape reality by turning to addictions of any kinds or simply not caring anymore, or living in fear will bring you no relief and you will find the patterns getting even more intense and confused. Don't give up. You are on the frontier of the unknown! You are in the process of transformation, discovering yourself as sacred, eventually dealing with what ever work you have that still keeps you separate from Source. Once you break through you will enjoy freedom and the totality of this transformation, and be able to create your life in any way you want.

Blue Electric Storm helps you move from apparent separation into a reunion with Source. You are at a crossroads and in the midst of a personal revolution, clearing old patterns, past experiences, judgments, memories, and expectations. You are being purified and quickened into your light body, activated for rebirth. Discover the freedom of the true adventurer like the Fool in Tarot, this is a new start and you can play any part you want at any moment without attachment. Trust your Essence Self to bring this freedom to you. Through Blue Storm, allow yourself to become a master player in the great game. You give up what you seem to be now at this time in order to become fully what you are.

Open yourself to its current of change! The Electric Tone of 3 suggests that there is something you desire to change or integrate into the natural flow of your life. Feel the pulse of the sacred trinity within you, revealing a new creation. Allow it to integrate that which has seemingly been lost, separated, or obscured from your sight. If you have a tendency to be scattered in your creativity, make an extra effort to focus your energy. Align with your intention to express the truth. Now is the time for the Great Mystery to reveal itself through you. Know yourself as the capstone of light. Allow your creativity to express your spiritual journey.
